Abell & Cleland, a luxury development of one to three bedroom residences, is located in the heart of Westminster, the governmental powerhouse of the United Kingdom. Sited centre stage amongst the corridors of power, this development reflects the presence of the political and social elite in one of the great cities of the world.

The interiors of Abell and Cleland House, have been designed to create elegant modern apartments characterised by natural materials and offering a highly sophisticated yet comfortable ambience. Taking a lead from the refined architecture of the building, the "Midtown" interiors concept was inspired by the truly timeless classic apartments found in Manhattan, providing style and comfort whilst in the centre of a bustling city. The palette of finishes is golden and natural with metallic
